

Hungarian University of Agriculture and Life Sciences – MATE

To Whom It May Concern:

Royal Jordanian Geographic Centre.

This letter is issued by The Hungarian University of Agriculture and Life Sciences (MATE) as a form of a request to provide all necessary maps and data needed by our Jordanian student: Ansam Faris Mohammed Bzour (Passport number: R124908) to accomplish her doctoral studies at our university.

Research Topic: Cultural Influence and Landscape Changes of Rivers as Borders (The Case of Jordan River).

Institution and Department: Hungarian University of Agriculture and Life Sciences (MATE), Department of Landscape Protection and Reclamation.

Budapest, 22.11.2022

Dr. István Valánszki, PhD
Head of the department, associate professor
MATE, Department of Landscape Protection and Reclamation